

Specialised Services Webinar Series

What are specialised services?

Specialised services support people with a range of rare and complex conditions. They often involve treatments provided to patients with rare cancers, genetic disorders or complex medical or surgical conditions. They deliver cutting-edge care and are a catalyst for innovation, supporting pioneering clinical practice in the NHS.

Webinar Title	Speakers	Time/Date
Introduction to Specialised Services	Dylan Birch - Head of Delivery, NHSE Slides and recording on NHS Futures: Specialised Services Future Commissioning - FutureNHS Collaboration Platform	10/01/2023 4:00 – 4:45
Joint working arrangements and The Joint Working Agreement	Chris Petch – Strategy & Policy, NHSE	Pre-recording via NHS Futures
The role of Clinical Leadership in Specialist Commissioning and National Clinical Policy Formation	Andy Hughes – Head of Clinical Policy, NHSE Donna Hakes – Head of Clinical Effectiveness, NHSE	07/02/2023 4:00 – 4:45
What is a Specialised Service? Service Specifications and the Manual.	Fiona Marley – Head of Highly Specialised Commissioning, NHSE Katie Cusick – Head of Acute Programmes, NHSE	21/02/2023 4:00 – 4:45
What BI & Analytics tools are available for Specialist Services?	Vicky Mathwin – Deputy Director of Information & Intelligence, NHSE	07/03/2023 4:00 – 4:45
An introduction to the Specialist Commissioning Transformation Programmes	TBC	21/03/2023 4:00 – 4:45

Where can I find more information on specialised services?

All webinars and products relating to this programme will be uploaded and can be found on the following link:
Specialised Services Future Commissioning - FutureNHS Collaboration Platform

Why are these webinars being offered to ICB colleagues?

As ICBs take on a greater leadership role in the commissioning of some specialised services from April 2023, this suite of webinars has been designed to give staff working in ICBs a greater understanding of what specialised services are, how they are currently commissioned, how they will be commissioned in future and how the different business functions operate.

If there's a subject not already covered that you think would be useful, please feed back to your NHS England regional contacts. We will add additional webinars to the series where-ever possible.

Invitations will be sent out shortly via regional specialised commissioning leads, who will also be your points of contact, should you require any further information.